Modern country artist Steven Cade has partnered with Brent Yates and The Salvation Army's Rathgeber Center for Families to raise awareness of the importance of music in our lives. The Rathgeber Center is the largest facility of its kind in Central Texas because it allows dads, moms, and guardians to stay with their children while 100 percent of households are case managed. Cade's goal is to donate as many guitars as possible to Rathgeber Center for Families.

"God made music music was made to lift our spirts, and was used for worship, praise, and fellowship. I want to inspire the next generation to pick up an instrument and use it to better humanity and bless someone", states Cade. Saturday, Oct. 16th at 11:30 AM Cade will visit the Rathgeber Center to make the guitar donations, connect with the families and staff there, and perform some of his country hits. If you'd like to support this cause, please send donations to <https://www.stevencade.com/tip-jar/>
